

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER CALEDONIA.

Five days later from Europe.

Highly Important and Interesting News!

Mediation offered by England between the United States and Mexico.

From the Washington Union.
The Oregon Treaty in England—Louis Bonaparte arrived in England in disguise, and about to leave for Florence—Determination of Sir Robert Peel to press forward the Irish Coercion Bill—Reduction in the Cotton Market—Attempted Revolution in Portugal—Overland Mail from India—A French Fleet ordered to the Gulf of Mexico, to reinforce their squadron, in consequence of the war between the United States and Mexico.

We received this morning the following interesting and important news from Europe, which we hasten to issue in an extra:

Boston, June 18th—6 p. m.
The steamer Caledonia, Capt. E. G. Lott, was telegraphed this morning at half past 1 o'clock, and arrived at the wharf at 11 o'clock.

The cotton market has been reduced again to a state of comparative quietude. Prince Louis Napoleon has arrived in England in disguise, and is about to leave for Florence, to join his invalid father. It would appear from what O'Connell stated on Monday, that Sir Robert Peel is determined to press forward the Irish Coercion bill, when Parliament reassembles after the Whitsuntide holidays.

The Oregon question has now ceased to give any uneasiness.
Freights at Liverpool.—The warlike tidings per Cambria have tended to check shipments in some degree, and a few houses having determined not to ship in the American bottoms, has caused some little inquiry for British vessels. There is not, however, a single American ship in the port unfreighted. The amount of freight going forward is still limited. In the absence of much demand for passengers, ship business must be considered dull, notwithstanding the unusual scarcity of tonnage.

The Paris paper, La Presse, of Monday, reached our office last night, which announces that orders had been sent, by the Minister of Marine, to Brest, and the other military harbors, to despatch a number of ships to the Gulf of Mexico, to reinforce the squadron stationed there, in consequence of the war between the United States and Mexico.

The overland mail of May 1st reached London yesterday. It possesses no political, and little commercial interest. The seeds of another contest in the Sikh country were sown at the termination of the late war.

Portugal has been the scene of another attempt at revolution, consequent upon a change of the ministry. It appears that, for the Portuguese, it would have been a more than ordinarily energetic affair.

Oregon.—The British Parliament.—Mr. Hume asked whether the government had been officially informed that the President of the United States had received directions from Congress to give notice to this country, of their intention to terminate the joint occupancy of the Oregon territory, and whether that notice had been given.

Sir Robert Peel: "I can have no objection to answer the question the honorable gentleman has put to me by stating that the American President has given to Her Majesty's government the formal notice necessary to the termination of the existing convention at the termination of the year. And in doing so, the President has adopted the terms which were assented to by both houses of the legislature of the United States, that the notice was given with the view of leading to the amicable adjustment of the difference between the two countries on this subject." (Hear, hear.)

E. G. Lott has offered his mediation between the United States and Mexico. Mr. Pakenham has received instructions to that effect from the British government by the Caledonia.

St. Petersburg, May 22.—I regret to say that the cholera appears to be advancing with rapid strides towards this city, from whence, no doubt, it will, in time, find its way to western Europe.

The Markets.—Liverpool Cotton Market, from May 24th to June 3d.—There has been a fair demand for cotton since our last report; it amounts to 2,000 bales—viz: 3,000 Saturday, 7,000 Monday, 5,000 Tuesday, and today 5,000. Yesterday a d to day 1,000 to 2,000 bales were taken on speculation. Prices cannot be quoted lower, but the market decidedly firm and steady—very extreme rates being obtained. There is no improvement in grain. In the London markets flour was dull. Philadelphia flour, under lock at Liverpool, from 20 to 21 shillings. Packet-ship Thomas P. Cope sailed from Liverpool on the 24 June for Philadelphia.

From the Liverpool Times, June 4.

The Mediation of England in the Mexican War.—Connected with the mission of General Armstrong, we may notice a rumor which has obtained currency in London. In the monetary circles of the city, it is whispered that the American has claimed the intervention of the British government to settle the dispute with Mexico. The fact may be so; but we cannot credit it. It bears improbability on its front. Indeed, the city is the focus of a thousand sinister rumors daily; on the face of the earth a more imaginative race than the brokers and stock-jobbers of "Change-alley" could not be found. They beat the same class in Wall street, New York, hollow. We should be sorry, for the credit of the American character, if the fact referred to proved correct. Peace, we grant, is a blessing which ought not to be slightly sacrificed, but the United States are quite able to settle their differences with the Mexicans without intervention; if they are not the race has sadly degenerated since the days of Washington, and the battle of New Orleans. The Standard of last night has the following, in reference to this subject:

"The statement made in the London Morning Herald, that ministers have determined to offer the mediation of the British government to arrange the differences between the United States and Mexico, is the most important news of the morning, and has excited much interest. The intention to tender this mediation was communicated to the diplomatic representatives of the two states yesterday, and the necessary powers will be forwarded to Mr. Pakenham, our minister at Washington, by the Caledonia steamer which will sail from Liverpool to-morrow morning. Measures will also be taken to have the proposition made to the government of Mexico with the least possible delay. It is almost unnecessary to say that the universal hope is, that the mediation should prove successful; for, independent of the desire for the speedy settlement on the common ground of humanity, there is great apprehension felt that if hostilities were protracted, the maritime states of Europe would run great risk of being involved in the quarrel."

Connected with this Mexican emute—for war it hardly deserves to be called—speculation is rife as to the course which privateering may take. There are every maritime power numbers to be found who would gladly embark in any enterprise, however brutal or sanguinary, that would "bring to the mill." Privateering is a legal piracy. The underwriters are making a rich harvest out of the fears of the fastidious. The rates of insurance yesterday to New York and New Orleans were, on British vessels, 30s. to 35s. per cent; on American vessels as high as 60s. to 105s. per cent. This is absolute coinage.

There are many reasons for thinking that fear over rules prudence in this matter. It does not appear that war has yet been declared between the belligerents. War is the act of Congress, and the latest advice does not show that Congress, in its legislative capacity, had moved at all. We are in possession of Mr. Polk's message to that body, but what transpired subsequently, we are as yet unacquainted with. Again, none but the natives of the countries which are at loggerheads are entitled to privateer: the natives of other countries who are found engaged in the infamous practice, expose themselves to a very summary procedure—the fact of pirates—hanging at the yard arm. But, above all, the United States have friendly treaties with France, England, Spain, Holland, Belgium, Denmark, Sweden, Prussia, Brazil, Colombia, Venezuela, Peru, Bolivia, and Chili. The subjects and citizens of these countries, which from all the maritime powers worth naming in the new and the old world could not act as letters of marque. Add to this, the ease with which the American vessels of war could blockade the Mexican ports, and it will be at once seen that the rates of insurance are out of all proportion to the risks.

OUR UNIVERSITY.
There was quite a Literary Carnival at Chapel Hill, last week and as we happened to be "a looker on in Vinton," we shall briefly state the leading incidents of the occasion. It was the Annual Commencement of the College, and we will premise, that the Exercises were attended by a very numerous auditory, embracing some of the most distinguished citizens of the State. The number of Trustees, too, in attendance, was unusually large. It is gratifying to perceive that each succeeding year imports to this interesting celebration a fresh degree of attraction—a circumstance, indicative of an improved mode of feeling, which promises the most auspicious results to the State.

The public Exercises, which commenced on Monday, were continued each day, until the afternoon of Thursday.

On Monday night, the Valedictory Sermon was delivered by the Rev. E. M. FORTNER, of Newbern, which we did not have the pleasure of hearing, but which is spoken of in high terms of praise.

On Tuesday afternoon, J. F. M. HUBBARD, of Newbern, delivered an address on the Life and Character of Sir Walter Raleigh. We did not arrive either, to hear this effort, but all who did, concur in representing it as a most eloquent and finished performance, replete with historical information, and affording strong evidence of great labor and research.

On Tuesday night, the following gentlemen, selected from the Freshman Class, declaimed before a large auditory, viz:

1. BRYAN WHITFIELD, (Danapolis, Ala.) Prof. Hooper's Address before the two Literary Societies.
2. THOMAS M. ARBINGTON, (Nash County,) Livingstone on the "Aloe Law."
3. WILLIAM H. JONES, (Wake County,) Pindexter, on the "Seminar War."
4. MARTIN A. LYON, (Danapolis, Ala.) Phillips, on "Catholic Emancipation."
5. W. E. HILL, (Duplin County,) Erskine, against Paine's "Age of Reason."
6. RIDLEY BROWN, (Warren County,) Hayne, on "Tariff Bill," 1832.
7. AUGUSTUS S. GRAVES, (Newtown County, Ga.) Eulogy on "Henry Clay."

On Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, the Annual Address was delivered before the two Literary Societies by B. F. MOORE, Esq., of Halifax, and occupied just one hour in the delivery. The topics of the address were diversified, but we shall not be wise of the mark, if we state its subject to have been—"The high claims of the University on her sons for cultivating Truth and universal Justice."

The address presented many held and original views, and abounded throughout with the cogent reasoning, apt illustration and high-toned patriotic feeling, for which its author is distinguished. Though decidedly of the practical order it was occasionally lighted up by flashes of true eloquence, worthy both the subject and the occasion. When published, this Address will attract public attention.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, there was a meeting of the ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, at which, interesting Biographical Sketches of such Alumni, as have died during the year past, were read by different gentlemen. Ex. Governor MOREHEAD, who is President of the Association, also addressed the body in a Speech, the matter and manner of which were worthy of the well-established reputation of its distinguished author. We happen to know that, four days before the delivery of this Address, pen had not been put upon paper, in relation to this subject-matter. And, yet for useful information, graphic delineation, highly seasoned wit and humor, it has not been our lot to witness a happier effort. The Governor ought to adopt as the motto on his shield—"Semper paratus."

On Wednesday night, the following Declaimers, selected from the Sophomore Class, delivered Orations, viz:

1. OLIVER P. MEARES, (Wilmington,) Judge Story's Address at the Commemoration of the Settlement of Salem.
2. JOHN K. STRANGE, (Fayetteville,) "The Loper," by Willis.
3. THOMAS E. WATSON, (Chapel Hill,) Gaston on the "Loan Bill."
4. SEATON GALE, (Raleigh,) Erskine's Defence of Stockdale.
5. GEORGE WASHINGTON, (Goldborough,) Sprague on the Bill for the "Relief of the Soldiers of the Revolution."
6. WM. A. JENKINS, (Warrenton,) Clay on the Bank Vote.
7. BELFIELD W. CAVE, (Chapel Hill,) "Battle of Waterloo," by Byron.

Thursday was COMMENCEMENT day, and the following was the order of the Exercises, viz:

1. Sacred Music.
2. Prayer.
3. Salutatory Oration, [in Latin.] Frederick A. Shepherd, Wadesboro.
4. Oration, "Life and Character of Howard."

Richard T. Weaver, Northampton.
5. Oration, "English Tragedy," David S. Johnston, Caswell.
6. Oration, "True Glory," James S. Anis, Granville.
7. Oration, "True National Greatness," Simon H. Rogers, Wake.
8. Oration, "The Shade of the Past," Turner W. Battle, Edgecomb.

1. Oration, "The Reformation," James R. Ward, Chatham.
2. Oration, "Influence of Fiction," Richard N. Forbes, New Bern.
3. Oration, "Free Institutions favorable to Literature," Owen H. Whitfield, Miss.
4. Oration, "Highland Character," Wm. K. Blake, Fayetteville.
5. Annual Report.
6. Degrees Conferred.
7. Valedictory, Wm. S. Bryan, Raleigh.
8. Sacred Music.

9. Prayer.

The Oration delivered by the Seniors, exhibited a degree of talent, and of high moral and intellectual attainments, that augured well for their future success in life. The Class consisted of twenty-nine gentlemen, on each of whom the Degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred. Their names are as follow, viz: James S. Anis, T. W. Battle, Wm. K. Blake, Alex. F. Brevard, Wm. S. Bryan, Wm. F. Carter, John N. Daniel, Wm. A. Daniel, Wm. J. Duke, Solomon J. Faison, Wm. A. Faison, Richard N. Forbes, Edward H. Hicks, Robert T. C. S. Hilliard, John L. Holmes, David S. Johnston, Wm. B. Meares, Thos. M. Newby, Stephen F. Pool, Sion H. Rogers, James S. Ruffin, Frederick A. Shepherd, John V. Sherard, David T. Tayloe, James R. Ward, Richard T. Weaver, Benj. F. Whitaker, Owen H. Whitfield, Hilory M. Wilder.

The first distinction in Scholarship, in the Senior Class, was awarded to Wm. S. Bryan, of Raleigh. In the Junior Class, the first distinction was given to J. J. Pittigrew, of Tyrrell, and M. W. Ransom, of Warren. In the Sophomore Class, Seaton Gales, of Raleigh, T. C. Pinkard, of Alabama, and John Wilson, of Milton, obtained the first distinction. And, in the Freshman Class, the first honor was awarded to Kemp P. Battle, of Chapel Hill, Joseph B. Lucas, of the same place, and Bryan Whitfield, of Alabama.

On each day, during the week, a Procession was formed, under the direction of Wm. M. Howerton, Chief Marshal, assisted by his Aides, Messrs. L. L. Levy, J. D. Myrick, J. J. Pettigrew, and J. W. Tucker, which moved to the sound of martial music from the front of the South building, to the new Chapel.

The Honorary Degree of Master of Arts was conferred on the following gentlemen, viz: Ashbel G. Brown, Tutor in the University; Haywood W. Guion, of Lincoln; James W. Downey, of Granville; John W. Ellis, of Rowan; J. M. W. Lancaster, of Wayne; Henry S. Graves, of Texas; John C. Williams, of Fayetteville, and John Kimberly, of Hertford.

On the whole, the situation of the University was never more prosperous; and our earnest wish is, that it may continue to flourish yet more and more, yearly to send forth from its walls a detachment of educated men, to bless and adorn our highly favored country.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE.

The annual commencement of this Institution took place on Monday and Tuesday, the 8th and 9th instants.

On the day preceding, the board of Trustees held a meeting and continued its session until late in the evening. At night the Anniversary meeting of the Education Society of Wake Forest College was held in the College Chapel—Nathaniel J. Palmer, Esq., President of the Society, in the Chair.

The public exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. J. J. James, of Caswell.

By invitation, the annual Address was delivered by ADAM V. VENABLE, Esq., of the County of Granville. I should have been I to attempt it, to do justice to this very chaste and appropriate production. Although a much hackneyed subject, there was an originality of thought, a practical application of the subject to the varied professions and relations in life, the force of which was felt and acknowledged by all; and drew forth from the large and respectable audience frequent bursts of applause. A copy of this address will be solicited for publication, and I trust the public will ere long be favored with an opportunity of its perusal.

The proceedings of the evening were enlivened by several national airs from the Brass Band in attendance. A considerable accession was made to the list of Members of the Society. The services were closed by the benediction of Rev. J. J. Finch, of Raleigh.

The Society held an adjourned meeting on Tuesday evening, when on motion, the thanks of the Society were tendered to Mr. Venable for his able and entertaining Address, and a copy solicited for publication.

The Officers for last year were re-elected. On motion, John Kerr, Esq., of Yanceville, was requested to address the Society at the next meeting.

The Society then adjourned to meet in the City of Raleigh, on Friday evening preceding the fifth Sabbath in October next.

THE COMMENCEMENT.

The public exercises on Tuesday were opened with prayer by the Rev. S. Wait, President of the Board of Trustees, and were in the following order:

1. WILLIAM C. BLOUNT, Pitt County, N. C.—Catholic question.—Rogner.
2. HENRY B. FOLK, Bertie—Advantages of classical learning.—Story.
3. R. C. MEACHUM, Anson—Address to Youth.—Pinkney.

Sophomore Class.

1. OLIVER H. DICKERY, Richmond County, N. C.—Eulogy on Lafayette.—Buckingham.
2. WILLIE P. MANGUM, Hillsborough—Oregon question.—Crittenden.
3. FREDERICK B. RYAN, Wake—Paine's Age of Reason.—Erskine.
4. WM. T. WALTERS, Pittsylvania, Va.—Character of Lafayette.—Adams.

Original speeches by members of the Junior Class.

1. ARCHIBALD McDOWELL, S. Carolina—Resources of our country.
2. JOHN W. MERRIAM, Illinois Party Rivalry.

Graduating Class.

1. G. W. COLLINS, Warren County, N. C.—True greatness.
2. M. T. YATES, Wake—Influence of the Mechanical Arts on the condition of mankind.

The young gentlemen then acquitted themselves with great credit receiving the meed of approbation from all present. The select Orations were well delivered, and what is unusual without the aid of a prompter. The original Speeches were very appropriate, and clothed with chaste and beautiful language. Where each done so well, distinctions cannot be made.

The degree of A. M. was then conferred on G. W. Collins, of Warren, and M. T. Yates of Wake, and the degree of A. M. on Rev. W. W. Childers, of Georgetown; S. C. an alumnus of the Institution.

The services were then closed with prayer and benediction by the Rev. T. Meredith.

Although the day was inclement, a large and attentive congregation witnessed the proceedings, and manifested not the least abatement of interest during the whole time.

In the evening a social party complimentary to the Graduates, was given by the young gentlemen of the College, which was numerously attended, and passed off to the satisfaction of all.

It must be truly gratifying to all the friends of this Institution to learn that its march is onward. The number of students is larger than it has been for years, and increasing. The thorough course of instruction here imparted, the moral culture and influence pervading the whole Institution is a sure guarantee to Parents and Guardians that here their sons and wards may be considered safe from those contaminating influences so painful in their tendency and effects in many similar institutions of the day. In this particular it stands almost without a rival. The moral influence exerted by the large number of young men who are pious, is productive of the happiest effects.

The exercises of the Institution will be resumed about the middle of July. The number of students is now about eighty—accommodations will be furnished for a few more. Applications to be made to Professor J. B. White.

TROY FEMALE SEMINARY.

December 10, 1839.

DEAR COUSIN—Herewith you will receive a present of a pair of woolen stockings, knit by my own hands; and be assured, dear coz., that my friendship for you is as warm as the material, active as the finger work, and generous as the donation.

But I consider this present as peculiarly appropriate on the occasion of your marriage. You will remark, in the first place, that there are two individuals united in one pair, who are to walk side by side, guarding against coldness, and giving comfort as long as they last. The thread of their texture is mixed, and so, alas, is the thread of life. In these, however, the white is made to predominate, expressing my desire and confidence that thus it will be with the color of your existence. No black is used, for I believe your lives will be wholly free from the black passions of wrath and jealousy. The darkest color here is blue, which is excellent, where we do not make it too blue.

Other appropriate thoughts rise to my mind in reference to these stockings. The most indifferent subjects, when viewed by the mind in a suitable frame, furnish instructive inferences. As saith the poet,

"The iron dogs, the peel and tongs,
The bellows that have leathern lungs,
The firewood, ashes and the smoke,
Do all to righteousness provoke."

But to the subject. You will perceive that the tops of these stockings (by which I suppose courtship to be represented) are seamed, and by means of seaming are drawn into a snarl, that afterwards comes a time when the whole is made plain, and continues so to the end and final toting off. By this I wish to take occasion to congratulate you that you are now through with seaming and have come to plain reality. Again as the whole of these comely stockings were not made at once, but by the addition of one little stitch after another, put in with skill and discretion, until the whole presents the fair and equal piece of work which you see; so, life does not consist of one great action, but millions of little ones combined; and so may it be with your lives, no stitch dropped when duties are to be performed; no widening made, where bad principles are to be reformed, or economy is to be preserved; neither seeming nor narrowing, where truth and generosity are in question; thus every stitch of life made right and set in the right place, none either too large or too small; too light or too loose, thus may you keep on your smooth and even course, making existence one fair and consistent piece, until, together having passed the heel, you come to the very toe of life; and here, in the final narrowing off, and dropping the coil of this emblematic pair of companions, and comforting associates, nothing appears but white, the token of innocence and peace, of purity and light. May you like these stockings, the final stitch being dropped, and the work completed, go together from the place where you were formed, to a happier state of existence—a present from earth to Heaven.

Hoping that these stockings and admonitions may meet a cordial reception, I remain in the true blue friendship seemly yet without seeming.

Yours from top to toe, E. W.

To J. D. W., Esq.

Castle of San Juan de Ulloa.—The first object that strikes the eye, in approaching Vera Cruz by water, is the Castle of San Juan de Ulloa, with the spires and domes of the churches peering up in the distance behind it. It stands alone upon a small rocky island, on one side of the main entrance to the harbor, and only about half a mile from the wall of the city, and consequently has complete command of the port. The entrance on the other side, is so barred with broken reefs and ledges, that it can only be used by small craft in favorable weather.

The castle is circular and strongly built, and heavily mounted. Its principal strength, however, is in its position, inaccessible except by water, and its guns pointing every way, leaving no side open to the attack of an enemy.

The form of the city of Vera Cruz is semicircular, fronting the sea. It is situated on an arid plain, surrounded by sand hills, and is badly supplied with water. The chief reliance being upon rain collected in cisterns, which are often so poorly constructed as to answer but very little purpose. The chief resources of the lower classes, is the water of a ditch, so impure as frequently to occasion disease. An attempt was made more than a century ago, to remedy this evil, by the construction of a stone aqueduct from the river Xamapa; but, unfortunately, after a very large sum had been expended on the work, it was discovered that the engineer who constructed it had made a fatal mistake, in not ascertaining the true level, and the work was abandoned in despair.—Norman's Rambles.

WOMAN'S ADVANTAGES.

She can paint her face if too pale, or flour if it be too red.

She can stay at home in time of war, and wed again if her husband is killed.

She can wear corsets if too thick, other "fixins'" if too thin.

She can eat, drink, and be merry, without its costing her a penny.

She can get divorced from her husband, whenever she sees one she likes better.

She can run in debt, and make her husband pony up the cash.

And she can wear shoes, while her husband has to tug to get his boots on.

County Candidates.

We are authorized to announce the following Democratic ticket for Onslow county: For the SENATE—William Ferrand. For the HOUSE OF COMMONS—Harvey Cox. For Sheriff—W. D. Humphrey.

To the Voters of New Hanover County.

Gentlemen—The time will soon come when you will have the opportunity of electing some person to fill the office of High Sheriff of your County. From the support I have heretofore received from you, and the solicitations of many friends, I again appear before you for the office. I deem it useless to enter into any details of a political character, being well satisfied that most of you (if not all) know well what mine are. But as I have said on former occasions, political opinions should not have any influence in your selection of a person to fill the office. Your enquiry, in my opinion, should be, is he capable, will he discharge the duties of the office honestly, and without respect to persons. Should I receive a majority of your suffrages, I will endeavor to discharge the duties of the office without respect to persons.

OWEN FENNEL.

Wilmington, N. C., June 17, 1846.

To the Voters of Wayne County.

Fellow-citizens: The time is rapidly approaching when you will be called upon to select some one from amongst your number to fill the office of High Sheriff of your County. On the sixth day of August next, you will have to make this choice. Through the solicitations of many warm and respected friends, I have been induced to offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages, to fill that office. Although I have never before been a candidate for any office within the gift of my fellow-citizens of Wayne, still I flatter myself that myself and my character are tolerably well known to most of the people of the county. My political sentiments are known. I trust, however, that political prejudices will not influence you in your choice of a Sheriff. I think you will agree with me in saying that the proper, and indeed the only enquiry which you will make, in casting your votes, will be, is he honest, is he capable, and will he discharge the duties of the office faithfully, honestly, and without regard to persons.

Should I be so fortunate as to receive a majority of the suffrages of the people of Wayne, I solemnly pledge myself that in all that appertains to the office of High Sheriff of your County, I shall act with strict impartiality, and shall endeavor, in all other respects, to do my duty honestly and promptly, so far as my abilities will allow me.

Respectfully, W. R. HOOKS.

Wayne county, June 26, 1846 41-1e

DIED.

(COMMUNICATED)

On the 16th inst., at the residence of her son, on Moore's Creek, New Hanover County, N. C., after a protracted illness of many months, Mrs. Elizabeth Herring, consort of John Herring, aged about 73 years. The subject of this notice was pre-eminently distinguished for all the Christian charities and virtues. She was an exemplary member of the Baptist Church for about 35 years; she was always by her walk and conversation, that she had chosen that better part, which should not be taken away. She met death with firmness and resignation, having from the moment of her illness, felt assured that she had not long to live; she was frequently and earnestly engaged in preparing for the great change which awaited her. We can only say to the bereaved, follow her example.

"Walk thoughtfully on the solemn silent shore,
Of that vast ocean we must sail to soon,
And put good works on board, and wait the wind
That shortly blows us into worlds unknown."

In Newbern, on the 12th inst., Miss Sarah McIlwaine, in the 16th year of her age, daughter of Mr. Francis McIlwaine.
